Summary Information:

C of E
Boys & Girls
11-18

Chelsea Academy is currently graded outstanding by Ofsted and SIAMS, have recently been re-designated as a World Class School and are a member of the Leading Edge network. In the summer we achieved our best ever AS and A2 results and are way above national averages at GCSE in terms of both progress and attainment. However, we are much more than a successful, academically focused school. We believe in educating the whole child and our Christian values of joy, perseverance, servant leadership, charity and forgiveness underpin everything we stand for. It is important that all of our staff, teaching and non-teaching, work closely with our young people to ensure that they are successful in all that they do. We are looking for staff who will always go the extra mile for our young people and believe that education happens both in and out of the classroom.

Chelsea Academy has a strong pastoral support system based upon year-based Coaching Groups, with our Learning Coaches being key figures in understanding the learning and social needs of the students in their Coaching Groups. Our Coaching Groups form part of a House system which encourages collaboration and a strong sense of community that is put into practice during events such as Sports Day and Inter-House competitions.

We aim to create firm discipline within a positive, caring atmosphere and to develop supportive relationships between students and staff. Discipline and relationships will be guided by the Academy's distinctively Christian ethos. The Academy recognises the importance of treating students as individuals, created in God's image, who all have an important contribution to make to the Academy and to society as a whole.

Chelsea Academy is a great place to work (we are one of the few schools in the country to be awarded Investors in People Gold), our staff are friendly and supportive and we offer a whole range of professional development opportunities. We want all of our staff to be outstanding and so offer unrivalled professional development and support. This includes a CPD session every week (two for newly qualified teachers) and a thriving in-house lead practitioner team that coach and support staff across the Academy. Through the Chelsea Academy Way for Learning we have a simple, flexible and consistent way of developing outstanding teaching. Most of our senior and middle leaders started as teachers with us and have developed into highly talented practitioners.

We have worked hard to recruit well-qualified and appropriately experienced teaching and associate staff of the highest calibre who recognise that students have different learning styles, gifts and talents. We also support teacher training schemes by working with universities to provide coaching and mentoring for core university and Schools Direct as well as NQTs.

Boys & Girls

The Rise School is a Free School opened in 2014 by the Ambitious About Autism Trust in the London Borough of Hounslow. We are a special school and cater for children with a diagnosis of autism. Our pupils are some of the most vulnerable children in society and we are passionate about wanting them to blossom and experience success whilst developing confidence and strategies to overcome some of the challenges associated with their autism.

In September 2018 we started teaching a differentiated version of the National Curriculum at all five key stages and entering pupils for public examination. In addition, we teach a bespoke social curriculum underpinned by our values: be kind, be resilient and be proud, as well as our innovative wellbeing programme.

We have a specialist staff of teachers both from a mainstream and SEND background as well as a large team of teaching and learning assistants and specialist therapists. We also have a number of experienced mentors on our staff to support trainee teachers.

Ideally, we are looking for School Direct trainees with an interest in a career with us in special education. However, we are also able to provide training which would qualify and adequately prepare trainees for a mainstream teaching position in the future.

We particularly welcome trainees who may have taken a less conventional route to initial teacher training and we would ask you to contact the school office to arrange for a visit and an informal discussion.

Summary Information:

Boys & Girls
11-18

From its foundation in 2011, the West London Free School has been at the forefront of education, both locally and nationally. The school has a distinct and very clear ethos, which is to provide a classical liberal education for pupils of all backgrounds, emphasising scholarship and academic excellence.

The curriculum is rich and knowledge based, and ensures that all of the pupils are provided with an education that includes the materials and methods of the great scholars, thinkers and academics. Our pupils learn how to study with rigour, diligence and application, so that they are able to study, absorb and understand their subjects at increasingly challenging levels as they progress through the school.

Our motto is 'sapere aude!' which can be translated as 'dare to know', encompassing our exhortation to pupils to take an ambitious and curious approach to their learning. The highly-qualified staff here inspire pupils with their infectious enthusiasm for their own curriculum areas and expert teaching and subject knowledge.

This is also a school that values competition and achievement outside of the classroom. Pupils are encouraged to give of their best and to try new challenges on the sports field, the stage or in other competitions, such as debating, public speaking or any other of the many extra-curricular activities on offer here. The standard of Music here is particularly impressive, with all pupils being strongly encouraged to learn at least one musical instrument and the various orchestras, choirs and ensembles performing at an extraordinarily impressive level.

We place great emphasis on politeness and good behaviour and expect the highest standards from all pupils at all times. Both courtesy and kindness are expected of everyone in the school. Pastoral care is excellent. Staff know and support the pupils extremely well and provide extra care and assistance where required. We also have a House system, which encourages a strong sense of community and allows pupils of different ages to get to know each other and work on all kinds of competitions and activities.
